Peruvian Whistling Vessels are powerful shamanic instruments that are used to assist you to moving beyond this reality. The extraordinary vibrations produced by the pottery vessels encourage an expanded state of consciousness offering a slightly different approach to the shamanic journey and the sounds of the vessels themselves have profound healing properties. Individually they seem quite shrill, however, when played in a group they produce complex harmonics and vibrations that seem to occur both inside as well as outside of your body. These internally experienced sounds are what is most remarked upon by participants. Some say that they continue to hear the vibrations in their minds and bodies for several days after the initial experience. Shamanic journeys may be taken while the vessels are producing sounds and may also be embarked upon in the sacred silence that follows the vessels' work. No prerequisite, however a working knowledge of the Shamanic Journey Process is beneficial. Evie and Allie
